

PUBLIC SERVICE BROADCASTING THE RACE FOR SPACE

"Decades later, all this can seem like far-off history. Willgoose and Wigglesworth's ambitious concept music allows listeners to rekindle that same wonder again. Space still has the capacity to captivate."

– NPR First Listen

"'Race' is richly entertaining, immersive and evocative, orchestrated with fastidious care and feeling."

– The Independent

Hello (name),

Jeff McClusky & Associates is proud to share with you the music of innovative U.K. duo Public Service Broadcasting. Released on February 24 via Test Card Recordings, The Race for Space is another impressive entry in the career of this band with the single "Go!" leading the charge.

J. Willgoose, Esq. and Wigglesworth are Public Service Broadcasting, an exciting band out of the United Kingdom that use "old public information films, archive footage and propaganda material to teach the lessons of the past through the music of the future." By strategically integrating these samples into their expansive instrumental landscapes, Public Service Broadcasting establishes itself as a musical pioneer and one of the most creative acts in the industry today.

Public Service Broadcasting has enjoyed coverage from The New Yorker, NPR Music, Stereogum, Brooklyn Vegan, KEXP, and KCRW. The band just finished opening for Kaiser Chiefs on a run of arena shows in the U.K. and will be embarking on a month-long U.S. Tour including performances at SXSW.

We are excited to bring the music of Public Service Broadcasting to radio and our team will be contacting you in the coming weeks to get your feedback on the music. We look forward to speaking with you soon.

Best Regards,

Tommy Trafton
